Financial Services Guide

Part One

This document is part one of a Financial Services Guide ('FSG') and should be read in conjunction with part two – "Authorised Representative Profile and Guide to Fees and Charges". Together these two documents form the full FSG.

This Financial Services Guide (FSG) is an important document intended to inform you of certain basic matters so you can make an informed decision as to whether to proceed with our financial planning services.

The matters covered by in this FSG include:

- Who AFG Financial Planning ('AFGFP') are and how we can be contacted;
- The services AFGFP can provide to you;
- How AFGFP and any other relevant parties are paid;
- Any conflict of interest AFGFP may have; and
- AFGFP's internal and external dispute resolution procedures and how you can access them.

You have the right to ask about charges, the type of advice AFG Financial Planning's Authorised Representative will give you, and what you can do if you have a complaint about our services.

You should also be aware that your Authorised Representative must provide you with a Statement of Advice ('SoA') whenever you are given any advice which takes into account your objectives, financial situation and needs. In the event you are provided with a recommendation to acquire a particular financial product, or offer to issue or arrange the issue of a financial product, you will also be provided with a Product Disclosure Statement ('PDS'). The PDS will contain information about the particular product that will enable you to make an informed decision in relation to the acquisition of that product.

If you have been referred to AFG Financial Planning, the person that referred you may receive a fee or a percentage of the commission for the referral. If a referral fee is payable, you will receive more detailed information in your SoA, should you choose to proceed.

AFGFP's Commitment to You!

AFGFP recognises that you need to be treated as an individual with specific needs. We will do our utmost to be sensitive and welcoming while giving you honest, appropriate, professional and up to date advice. If you feel that we can serve you better, please let us know

1. Before You Get Our Advice

An Authorised Representative of Australian Finance Group Financial Planning Pty Ltd [A.B.N 74 099 029 526] Australian Financial Services Licensee No 247105, will be providing the Financial Services to you.

Prior to receiving any advice, your adviser is required to provide you with part two of this FSG which is their Profile and Guide to Fees and Charges. This profile will identify:

Who will be providing the Financial Services to you?

- Your financial adviser
- The Financial Services they are authorised to provide;
- How financial advice is documented;
- What kinds of Financial Products those services relate to;
- How you pay for the services; and
- Any associations and incentives which may impact the services you receive.

Who does your adviser act for when they provide Financial Services to you?

Your adviser will provide financial planning services as either an Authorised Representative or a Sub-Authorised Representative of a Corporate Authorised Representative, on behalf of AFG Financial Planning. While your financial adviser has the flexibility in the services they provide to you, AFGFP remains responsible for the advice provided to you.

AFGFP is a Principal Member of the Financial Planning Association of Australia Ltd www.fpa.asn.au

2. When You Receive Our Advice

Yes, but to do so your adviser needs to find out your individual objectives, financial situation and needs before they recommend any financial products or services to you.

Will you be provided with advice that is suitable to your needs and financial circumstances?

You have the right not to divulge this information if you do not wish to do so. In that case, your adviser is required to warn you about the possible consequences of not having your full personal information. You should read these warnings carefully.

What will you receive when provided with a financial service?

Your financial adviser will provide you with a recommendation which is appropriate to meet your needs and objectives. To achieve this your financial adviser will:

- Work with you to understand your needs and objectives and personal circumstances;
 - Explain and agree with you the scope of advice being provided and importantly what is not being provided;
 - Provide you with an SoA which documents their recommendations to you, the basis on which the advice is being given, information about fees and commissions, and any associations that may have influenced the provision of the advice; and
 - Provide you with a PDS containing information about each product recommendation to help you make an informed decision about whether to acquire that product.

In some circumstances you may not receive a SoA.	Your financial adviser may meet with you on a number of occasions to discuss possible investment options and strategies before finalizing their recommendations. All recommendations will be explained to you and documented in a SoA. You should not act on advice provided to you until you have received the SoA and had enough time to consider and understand the recommendation. In the following cases you may not receive an SoA: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • General Advice – such as advice provided in seminars and through newsletters that do not consider your personal circumstances. • Further Advice – recommendations made in cases where your personal circumstances have not significantly changed and the further advice is related to advice previously provided in a SoA will not be provided to you in writing. Further Advice will be recorded by your financial adviser. You may request a copy of that further advice at any time for up to 7 years from the date your adviser provided the advice to you.

What should you know about any risks of financial products or strategies recommended to you?	Your adviser will explain to you any significant risks of financial products and strategies recommended to you. If they do not, you should ask them to explain those risks to you. AFGFP has an approved product list and all products are supported by research from independent research providers such as Morning Star. Your financial adviser is restricted to the Approved Products List, unless they receive prior special approval from AFGFP to use an alternative product.

How can you give us instructions about your Financial Product/s?	You may tell us how you would like to give us instructions. For example by telephone, fax or other means such as e-mail. There may be occasions when you are provided with advice that is time bound. In these critical situations your adviser will provide all information that would normally appear in a SoA verbally, provide you with the relevant PDS/disclosure documents and provide you with a SoA within five business days.
---	---

3. Fees Commissions & Incentives

The following information is a guide about the cost of receiving and implementing the advice you are provided. It also includes how your adviser is paid and what incentives they may receive.

More details on these areas are also noted in Part 2 of the FSG and when you receive a SoA. You may also request this information from your adviser at any time.

What fees/commissions are charged for initial Advice?	A fee/commission may be charged by your financial adviser for the initial advice they provide and for the preparation of an SoA. The amount you may be charged will be based on the scope and complexity of advice that is being provided to you, the value of the funds you elect to invest and/or the insurance premiums you pay. This fee is arranged before your financial adviser commences work. Payment terms are agreed upon at this time. An implementation fee/commission may also be charged by your financial adviser where you agree to implement the advice that has been provided to you. This will be based on the value of the funds you invest and will be documented in the SoA.

What fees/commissions are charged for subsequent services?

Your financial adviser can provide ongoing administration and advice services to ensure the strategy and products they recommend continue to meet your needs and circumstances. If you elect to receive ongoing services, you will be charged a fee/commission based on the scope and complexity of services and the value of your account balance or insurance premiums. The amount of the fee/commission will be agreed and documented in the SoA. The fee/commission may be deducted from your account each month or payable directly to your financial adviser. The fee/commission may continue to be payable until you notify your financial adviser that you no longer wish to receive ongoing services.

Additional contributions you make to your account may incur a further fee that will be charged to your account. The amount of that fee will be based on the value of the funds you invest and will be agreed with you and disclosed in the SoA.

Other Remuneration Received By AFGFP

- The following amounts are (inclusive of GST) in addition to the remuneration outlined in Part 2 of the FSG, but they do not represent an additional cost or charge to you since these amounts are paid direct from the product providers.
